"...it leaves you in no doubt of the fact that the Linn Classik Movie Di is an exceptional piece of kit. Equally at home playing audio as it is images, there are no compromises or chinks in its armour. Treat it kindly and it's sure to give many years of great service. By that time, maybe, Linn will have surpassed themselves with a newer version but when a system is as good as this, why bother? Simply sublime."

"We were so blown away by the Linn that we have dumped the rest of our home theatre gear, and it is now our one and only. What can I say? This is an amazing piece of gear. I have not heard all the home theatre systems out there, nor do I have an HT reference system to compare it to, but you know, I have to say that I really don't care. The Di is grand..My suggestion is to not take my word for it, but get yourself down to the nearest Linn dealer and take a Classik Di out for a spin. You may just find that your cluttered HT cabinet is a LOT more spacious after you do! We have awarded the Classik Movie Di with our 2004 Brutus Award for being most excellent!"

"Gives you a nice taste of a reference Linn home theater system at a far lower price all-in-one chassis."

"I probably haven't done full justice to just how wonderful the Linn Classik Movie Di really is. That's because it's almost too much of a good thing. It's an extremely good DVD player and a darn good radio and an exceptional CD player. Its amp section sounds good -- especially paired with the right speaker in a mid-sized room. And it offers all kinds of multiroom capabilities I never even explored (Linn's Knekt system is aces in this regard). Does this little dynamo have a downside? Well, at $3995 it isn't inexpensive, although I don't think its price is unreasonable; it just isn't as cheap as I am -- or as circumstances have forced me to become. No matter. You could easily spend more than $4000 on A/V separates and not match the Classik's overall performance. Factor in its ease of use and tiny footprint, and it becomes extremely hard to call the Linn "extravagant." Yes, I do like big stuff -- and the Linn Classik Movie Di is big where it counts. That's no small thing."

"Of course there is more to this system than pretty pictures - given Linn's hi-fi credentials, it promises involving sound delivery too. It certainly offers an exciting listen and the five identical speakers mean tonal balance is constant around the room, which helps knit the soundstage together....This is a stylish, well built, compact system for buyers who value looks and simple usability in addition to pure sound and vision ability. And if you want one unit for DVD and CD replay, this is a wise choice." ( Group Test Winner)

"Although we chose Linn's Classik Movie in our last Recommended Systems feature, we can't think of a more elegant single-box electronics package than this one. Available in five different colours, the Classik's compact chassis houses five channels of amplification, a DVD/CD player, AM/FM tuner and decodes Dolby Digital and DTS movie soundtracks..this sweet little box is smooth, articulate, and very enjoyable."

"...refined high-end performance that will tickle the most discerning music and movie enthusiast. I found the Classik Di to perform well above its price, which makes it a great choice for those looking for a system that is small enough to hide and simple enough to connect without help.

The unit is built bulletproof and its construction is worthy of both its name and price. Additionally, the built-in multi-room audio system is an added bonus for those who already have other Linn components.

If you decide to build a simple high-end theater system and are tight on space and the time to learn and connect complicated separate components, the Linn Di is a fantastic choice."

DVD Buyer magazine(UK): Issue 19, 2003, September 2003

"The Glaswegian company that is responsible for this delicious package is at the very top of British Hi-end audio...More features than your local multiplex, great picture, superb surround sound, exceedingly easy to use. We say money well spent."

Audio Magazine (Germany) September 2003 issue, August 2003

"...The CLASSIK Movie Di delivers very good image quality and sounds as finely balanced, lively and subtle as a carefully optimised separate-component high end system. The Linn system is so extraordinarily good that its self-confident price-tag seems fully justified.

Although with but a couple hundred employees they look like a gnome compared with their competitors in this test field, it's nevertheless - or maybe just because of that - Linn who sets the standards. The best all-in-one surround system - by far."
